BC WOMEN'S HOSPITAL+
HEALTH CENTRE

An agency of the Provincial
Health Services Authority

An agency of the Provincial Health Services Authority

BC Children's Hospital (BCCH) cares for the province's most acutely ill or injured children and youth, provides developmental and rehabilitation services to children and youth throughout BC, and offers a broad range of health services. Sunny Hill Health Centre for Children (SHHC), a leading provincial facility offering specialized services to children and youth with developmental disabilities from birth to age 19, works collaboratively with BCCH. SHHC focuses on the child and their family while supporting health care professionals in their community. BCCH also operates a wide number of specialized health programs, is a leading acute care teaching facility, and conducts research to advance health and care through the BC Children's Hospital Research Institute and in partnership with the University of British Columbia.

BC Women's Hospital + Health Centre (BCW) is the only facility in British Columbia devoted primarily to the health of women, newborns and families. It provides a broad range of specialized women's health services that address the health needs of women of all ages and backgrounds. BC Women's is one of the largest maternity facilities in Canada, with over 7,000 births a year, and is both the major primary and secondary maternity services provider in the Lower Mainland and the cornerstone of the provincial tertiary care system. As an academic health centre BCW's mandate includes providing strong leadership in research and the education and professional development of health care professionals in areas related to the health of the populations we serve.

BCCH and BCW are agencies of the Provincial Health Services Authority (PHSA) which plans, manages and evaluates specialty and province-wide health care services across BC. PHSA embodies values that reflect a commitment to excellence. These include:

Respect people • Be compassionate • Dare to innovate • Cultivate partnerships • Serve with purpose

Community Liaison Nurse – Indigenous Complex Care

Reference # 55593

Regular Full-Time

Salary: $32.94 - $43.24 per hour

Work Shifts: Monday – Friday, 08:30-16:30

Children's + Women's Health Centre

4500 Oak Street,

Vancouver, BC

PHSA's Indigenous Health program aims to improve the health and well-being of Indigenous people, and to close the health gap between Indigenous and non-Indigenous British Columbians.

We have an exciting opportunity for a Community Liaison Nurse to join our team!

Reporting to the Operations Lead, Indigenous Health, the Community Liaison Nurse acts the primary communication link between BC Women's, BC Children's and provincial and community programs on behalf of the Indigenous Complex Care Coordination program. In collaboration with other healthcare members and the family, you will plan for transfer of care and discharge planning of Indigenous patients from BC Women's and BC Children's Hospital to the community where the family resides.

You must be a graduate of an accredited school of nursing, plus two years recent, related experience in women and/or child centered practice or an equivalent combination of education and experience. Your strong educational background is accompanied by College of Registered Nurses of British Columbia (CRNBC) registration, current CPR and NRP certification.

You have comprehensive knowledge of Indigenous history, cultures, communities, cultural interference, social determinants of health and Indigenous health policy and direction.

Experience or working knowledge of services and philosophy of public health nursing is key to the success of this role. You have the ability to know and assess the need for and initiate the use of community services. You possess excellent communication skills to council complex families and demonstrate the ability to provide culturally sensitive nursing services to Indigenous populations. You work well independently and as a member of a multi-disciplinary team and have the ability to organize and prioritize your work.

Preference will be given to candidates with Aboriginal Ancestry.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

If you are interested in this opportunity apply today with your Curriculum Vitae, and letter of application to:
