Lu'ma Medical Centre is a new Indigenous primary care home located at Nanaimo and Grandview. Lu'ma Medical provides culturally safe healthcare with a circle of healthcare providers: Traditional Elders/Healers, Family Physicians, Nurse Practitioner, Counselor, and Social Worker. Lu'ma Medical Centre is improving the way healthcare is delivered, health outcomes, and disparities in health status & services for Aboriginal families. Lu'ma is focused on upstream solutions through attachment of children and youth to a primary care provider and supportive team early in life – building these relationships will shape the trajectory of their health & wellness throughout their lifetime.

Lu'ma Medical Centre is currently looking for a physician(s) interested in joining our team on a fee for service basis supported by other allied health professionals. Overhead costs are covered in partnership with First Nations Health & Vancouver Coastal Health Authorities. Lu'ma Medical Centre is looking for physicians of all cultural backgrounds and will give preference to physicians with Aboriginal heritage.
