

Home and Community Care Nurse

One year maternity leave (January 2017 – January 2018)

Full Time – 35 hours/week

OMVC Haida Health Centre

Working within the context of the client-centered, family focused vision and goals of the OMVC Home and Community Care Program, the FNHA Home and Community Care Program and in accordance with CRNBC Standards of Practice, the Home Care Nurse combines health sciences knowledge with assessment, supervisory and clinical nursing skills to effectively assess and coordinate client care for the OMVC Home and Continuing Care Program. Primary clients include Elders, persons with chronic illnesses or disabilities, diabetic clients and special needs clients with delivery of services such as acute care nursing, foot care, client assessments, case planning, and case conferencing. The Home Care Nurse provides supervision of the Home Support Workers and reports to the OMVC Health Administrator.

The Home Care Nurse works collaboratively with the Community Health Nurse and Nurse Practitioner who serve the client base of Old Massett to align community health nursing and home and community care services in a manner that best supports the community's needs and priorities; and oversees the HCC referral process to ensure appropriate linkages and follow-up occur.

The ideal candidate has a Bachelor of Science, Nursing Degree, along with two years experience working in Acute Care and Community Health. Home and Community Care experience would be an asset. Other requirements include knowledge and skill in program development and project management; strong written, oral and public speaking skills; knowledge of clinical supervision principles and practices; and the ability to develop and maintain a strong working relationship with staff, community members, and partners.
