Purpose of addressing Traditional/Alternative Medicine

- In many different policy documents, there has been a keen interest in incorporating traditional medicine into the health and wellbeing of First Nations in BC.
- Communities are looking to bring a holistic approach back into their health plans.
Purpose Cont..

- One holistic approach is the use of traditional medicines/practices

- Another approach is the use of alternative therapies, such as Naturopathic Medicine
Traditional Medicine

- Embodies the use of native plants
- Encompasses a whole philosophy and spiritual practice surrounding health and well-being
- Takes a holistic approach using natural remedies to address medical conditions.
The importance of traditional medicine...

- Is increasingly being recognized as a means of improving the health and quality of life for Aboriginal people.

- Similarities are seen between the modalities of traditional medicine and those of many alternative therapies that are practiced today.
Alternative Medicine

Why is this a choice in Aboriginal health?

Many different alternative medical models view health and the body in the same manner as traditional medicine, following the same philosophies concerning well-being and care for the body and the environment.
Alternative Therapies

What do Aboriginal patients access outside of NIHB?

- Traditional Medicine
- Naturopathic Medicine
- Massage therapy
- Acupuncture
- Chiropractic
- Energy work
- Chinese medicine
- Ayurveda medicine
Naturopathic Medicine
Preventative and Alternative Medicine
Five Main Principles:

- First - do no harm
- The healing power of nature
- Address the cause of disease
- Treat the whole person through individualized treatment
- Teach the principles of healthy living and preventive medicine
Identify and Treat the Cause

- Symptoms are not the cause of disease.
- Naturopathic medicine addresses itself primarily to the underlying causes of disease, rather than to the symptoms.
- Causes may occur on many levels. (mental, emotional, spiritual, or physical)
Education

A Licensed naturopathic physician (N.D.) attends a four-year graduate level naturopathic medical school and is educated in all basic sciences and anatomy, diagnostic measures, and some pharmaceuticals. However, N.D.’s also study holistic and nontoxic approaches to therapy with a strong emphasis on disease prevention and optimizing wellness.
Modalities used in treatment

- Nutritional therapies (using supplements, IV: vitamins, minerals, herbs)
- Botanicals
- Hydrotherapy
- Homeopathy
- Lifestyle changes/counseling
- Physical medicine (manipulation, massage, Physical Therapy such as ultrasound, interferential, micro current)
- Acupuncture
Purpose of this discussion

- How can health care practitioners work together to provide maximum health care to our First Nation communities?

- How should this relationship evolve?
