

First Nations Health Authority
Health through wellness

Artwork by Sterling Watts

The Hummingbird mark was chosen by Nurses as it represents delicacy and strength to endure hardships and struggles. Hummingbirds, like nurses are messengers of peace; they are gentle and caring; they heal your body and soul guiding you through the challenges that life can bring. Hummingbirds are independent and have unlimited energy, much like nurses. Nurse's work independently and work tireless hours tending to people's needs, they are supporters and friends. This special bird is capable of the most amazing feats despite its size and often travel great distances to find peace, nurses travel far to work with remote communities and embrace life in the work they do.

NOVEMBER 2014 NURSING EDUCATION FORUM

The Art of Living

WHERE

Hilton Vancouver Airport Hotel
5911 Minoru Blvd., Richmond, BC V6X 4C7

WHEN

Week 1: November 18 – 20, 2014 and repeating
Week 2: November 25 – 27, 2014

Nurses are invited to attend the 2014 Nursing Education Forum “The Art of Living” hosted by the First Nations Health Authority.

This event brings nurses, who work in First Nations communities throughout BC, together in an environment of learning and sharing. Register now for 3 days of knowledge transfer, networking, and recharging!

REGISTRATION available now: www.regonline.ca/NEF2014Nov

The First Nations Health Authority travel policy will cover accommodation up to 4 nights, breakfast, lunch, snacks and dinner for 3 days plus reasonable travel expenses to/from venue for registered participants.

Knowledge Transfer, Information Sharing, Capacity Building, Best Practice Updates – Tuesday - Thursday. You will enjoy a series of sessions and learning opportunities that will enhance your knowledge and skills and help provide you with the tools for continued success within your nursing community.

This Forum will provide a multitude of sessions in selected learning environments for CHN, HCN and RCP in addition to the following general Keynote addresses:

Keynote Address by Dr. Jeff Reading

Cultural Component – Pauline (Hilistis) Waterfall

Thursday Awards and Wellness Project Lunch Banquet
Celebrate with your colleagues their recognized achievements.

For more information on the forum, keynote speakers, and the agenda, visit us online:
www.regonline.ca/NEF2014Nov