FNHA Day of Wellness Event Grant Application

Join us in celebrating National Aboriginal Day, June 21st 2018 to promote BC First Nations wellness together.

The First Nations Health Authority (FNHA) is a committed wellness partner for each and every First Nations person and community in British Columbia. FNHA has a vision of wellness that honours First Nations teachings, values our diversity and respects traditions and culture.

June 21st Day of Wellness events are part of an annual wellness movement for First Nations peoples in BC. This is an opportunity to shine light on the strength of your community, to bring people together, connect with health care professionals and wellness champions in an environment of cultural pride and celebration.

This year, we encourage communities to show your cultural pride by bringing together the Wisdom of Elders and the Energy of Youth in your Day of Wellness celebrations.
